President Ed. Dittman—"Farmers' Day has justified itself. The attendance was greater than we dared anticipate. Both country and city people joined in the pleasant pastime of getting acquainted and friendships formed today will last for years. The interest shown by the farmers was splendid, and the keenness with which they took part in the contests and entered into the spirit of the occasion was commendable. I doubt if any man in La Crosse expected half the attendance actually scored."

Secretary Harry Taggart—"Our most sanguine expectations were surpassed by the success of Farmers' Day. People from fifty miles about here rubbed elbows and got acquainted. A lot of us got out of our shells and found how much we liked each other. This event should be made the foundation of some permanent system to promote closer relations and better co-operation between city and country."

"Farmers' Day" brought more rural residents to La Crosse than were ever assembled here on any former occasion.

From every direction, by every highway, their wagons thronged into the city. They poured into Market Square, overran it, and spread about the town like a mountain torrent covering a low-land plain.

One hundred and fifty teams, marshalled at La Crosse by Judge James Farrell and his associates, came over the causeway in a single procession, but they were preceded and followed by scores of teams that did not get into the Minnesota parade.

From early morning the State Road, the two Salem roads, Mormon and Elmer's Coulee and other roads emptied a ceaseless stream of vehicles into the city.

Taking Care of Teams
Committee members worked incessantly seeking housings for the teams, but all their efforts failed to give housing for the horses, which were scattered about the town tied to pavement rings or hitched to their own wagons.

Every train into the city was loaded to excursion limits, and the depots disgorged hundreds of people to join the gala throngs.

From early morning the Gesell rest room was filled with women, whose appreciation of this thoughtful provision found constant expression.

The crowded condition of dozens of wagons indicated that the competition for prizes offered for the largest load, the largest family and other contests would be general and intense.

Many in Autos

A notable feature of the invasion of the farmers was the great number who came in their own automobiles, showing to how great an extent farmers own the gasoline vehicles.

The Wedding

To its new—and good—friend, Peter Onsgaard, who was "wedded to make a La Crosse holiday," the city offers the consolation of the following quotation from Kingsley's "Dolcino to Margaret":

"The world goes up and the world goes down,
And the sunshine follows the rain;
And yesterday's sneer and yesterday's frown
Can never come over again,
Sweet wife,
No, never come over again."

"For woman is warm though man be cold,
And the night will hallow the day;
Till the heart which at even was weary and old
Can rise in the morning gay,
Sweet wife,
To its work in the morning gay."

It was to Miss Jennie Lindstrom, an up-to-the-minute blonde, slit-skirted and kiss-lipped, that the valiant Onsgaard gave himself that the "wedding of the city and country might be fittingly symbolized." They would have been married Monday, anyway, but there were the prizes, and beside "Wedlock would be nibbling."

"Gets" His Honor

And so, in a solemn frock and polished tile, Judge M. Langstad, with a Rooseveltian wish that it might lead to multiplication, recited the "table of 2s" in addition. Mayor Sorensen gave the bride away, and when the judge suggested to the audience that it would be fitting and enjoyable were His Honor to kiss the bride the fair lady pecked away at him with what apparently was premeditated osculatory intent, with such precision that the mayor's side-step and duck did not prevent the end of his nose being decorated with a carress for which many a swain in the crowd would have fought.

Then the happy fairy brushed Secretary Taggart's cheek with an upercut, and with a straight lead smacked the venerable judge full upon his disinterested lips.

A Predatory Gang

Thereupon a bunch of the groom's male friends, with predatory design, piled upon the stage and beat the lagging groom to the honey in his hive. And—who could blame them! She was some-pearl.

The baby show was a huge success, and would have afforded immense "de-light" to "Teddy" Roosevelt, advocate of wholesale families. Unable to decide upon two babies for first and second prizes, the judges were in despair until Mayor Ori J. Sorenson headed a private contribution to create a third prize and end the dilemma of the judges.

Theaters Crowded

The theaters, to which the city's guests were admitted free, were crowded during their continuous performances with delighted visitors. The offerings were excellent, and the shows afforded agreeable entertainment to the guests.

Fifty automobiles, loaned by citizens, spent the day conducting parties of sightseers through the various factories and to other points of interest, and so great was the demand that Joseph J. Felber, in charge of this department, was obliged to make additional requisitions upon motor owners during the morning.

A feature of the day's program was the playing of the Kreutz-Andre band. Music was furnished from early morning until the afternoon on Market square and at different places around the streets. As the majestic theater filled early in the afternoon with those eager to see the performance, the band was pressed into service to prevent a moment's dragging while the city's guests waited for the show to commence.

Among the amusing incidents in the big tent on the square during the awarding of the prizes was the sight of John Nestler of Onalaska and his sister, Mrs. John Rosendale of Onalaska. They disproved the fact that the human race is growing less in dimensions. Mr. Nestler stood upon the scale with the measuring apparatus, pushing it up to the 6 foot 8 inch mark. His sister measured over 6 feet.

William Hanson, South Road, brought his family of nineteen to the big doings in a single wagon, dis-

ADMIT THE PECK EVIDENCE

Testimony Alleging Attempt to Suborn Perjury Damaging to Governor

ALBANY, N. Y., Oct. 16.—When the Sulzer impeachment court recessed this afternoon, it was announced that it would reconvene in open session at three o'clock this afternoon. It was unofficially stated that the court had disposed of all of the articles of impeachment. At the afternoon session, it was stated the final vote on the guilt or innocence of the governor would be recorded. It was understood when the recess was ordered that on at least three of the articles of impeachment, more than a two-thirds vote was recorded against the elected governor.

BY EDWIN NEVIN
(Staff correspondent of the United Press.)

ALBANY, N. Y., Oct. 16.—The removal from the office to which he was elected—governor of state of New York—of William Sulzer was a mathematical certainty today. His opponents have the two-thirds vote needed under the constitution.

The initial test vote, taken yesterday, showed one more vote than was needed to remove. On the question, which was that William Sulzer filed a false statement of his monetary transactions, following the last gubernatorial campaign, the judges of the court of appeals divided five against the governor to four in favor of his contention that the court did not have the power to pass upon acts committed prior to his subscribing to the oath of office.

The real issue will come on the fourth article of impeachment. This declares the elected governor suppressed evidence by means of threats to keep witnesses from testifying before the legislative investigating committee. The acts complained in it were committed after he became governor. The attempt to send it back to the assembly so that it would include the allegation that he also attempted to tamper with the high court of impeachment, failed. But the court by a vote of 46 to 11 ruled that the original article was broad enough to include the testimony of Duncan W. Peck, who is state superintendent of public works, directly charged Sulzer with attempted subornation of perjury. He said that after he was subpoenaed by the Frawley investigating committee he went to Sulzer, told him that he had been called as a witness and asked him what he could say under oath regarding a cash contribution of $500, which, he swore, he made to the governor's campaign fund. According to Peck, Sulzer said: "Forget it as I will."

Returning, he entered the shanty. A few minutes later he looked up from the evening paper he was reading to see three men, with handkerchiefs tied over their faces, in the doorway. One held a large caliber revolver which he leveled at Brandenburg's head. "Throw up your hands and give us that money!" was the command. Brandenburg, thinking it a joke by some of his friends, pushed the gun to one side. He was immediately cracked over the wrist by a gun in the hands of one of the other robbers. Without a word he handed over his pocketbook.

Backing out of the door the robbers commanded Brandenburg to keep quiet, slammed the door and locked it and made their escape.

It was several minutes before Brandenburg succeeded in effecting an exit through a window and notified the police.

Several suspects have been rounded up by the officers, who spent the greater portion of the night searching for the holdup men. It is not believed that any of the men being held were connected with the affair and they may be released today.

RED CHIEF DENOUNCES OLD INDIAN FIGHTERS FOR "MOVIE" ACTING

DENVER, Col., Oct. 16.—Scorn was heaped today upon the heads of Colonel William F. Cody (Buffalo Bill) and Lieutenant-General Miles during the session of the Society of American Indians by Chief Chauncey Yellow Robe, a full-blood Sioux from South Dakota. He bitterly denounced the part the two men had played in the recent re-enactment of the battle of Wounded Knee, the last great Indian battle, for the benefit of a moving picture concern.

He related how "these two 'heroes,' who were not even there when it happened," made a mockery of this tragedy to his race "for their own profit and cheap glory."

"You ask how to settle the Indians' troubles," he began. "I have a suggestion: Let Buffalo Bill and General Miles take some soldiers and go around the reservations and shoot them down. That will settle his troubles. Let them do in earnest what they have been doing on the battlefield of Wounded Knee."

"These two who were not even there when it happened, went back as dream heroes for a moving picture machine."

"You laugh, but my heart does not laugh. Women and children and old men of my people, relatives, were massacred with machine guns by the soldiers of this Christian nation while the fighting men were away. It was not a glorious battle and I should think these two men would be glad they were not there, but, no they want to be heroes for moving pictures."

MASKED ROBBERS IN DAYLIGHT JOB

John Brandenburg, Crossing Tender, Robbed of Pay in Shanty Near Gund's Brewery

THOUGHT IT WAS ALL A JOKE

Is Cracked Over the Wrist with Gun when He Fails to Give Up Money When Commanded

Three robbers, masked and armed with revolvers, at 6 o'clock last night held up and robbed John Brandenburg, 1112 Winnebago St., an aged man employed as crossing watchman by the Burlington at Gund's brewery.

The robbery was perpetrated in the shanty used by the crossing tender and forty dollars in cash, Brandenburg's pay for his month's labor, was the booty secured.

Late yesterday afternoon the C. B. & Q. pay car passed the crossing shanty, slowed up and Brandenburg was handed his pay check. He went to the offices of the Gund Brewing company and cashed it.

Returning, he entered the shanty. A few minutes later he looked up from the evening paper he was reading to see three men, with handkerchiefs tied over their faces, in the doorway. One held a large caliber revolver which he leveled at Brandenburg's head. "Throw up your hands and give us that money!" was the command. HUERTA FALTERS IN DEFIANCE OF UNITED STATES

Wilson's Success in Securing Disapproving Attitude by Powers Alarms Dictator

MAY YET STOP THE ELECTIONS

Has Card Up His Sleeve by Which He May Continue as Dictator Under Constitution

EXPLAINS HIS NEGLIGENCE OF NOTE

Declares It Was Never "Officially" Brought to His Notice; Mexican Judges Resign

MEXICO CITY, Oct. 16.—General Huerta's explanation of why he has not replied to the unequivocal note from President Wilson, according to one of the dictator's close advisers today, is that he did not receive the note officially. This is the Huerta version of the affair:

Charge Nelson O'Shaughnessy received the note by cable from Washington and took it to the national palace. Huerta read it and then asked O'Shaughnessy: "Do you want this note to be officially accepted and answered by me?"

The charge cabled the state department for instructions and was told not to present the note officially.

Americans here believe that Huerta, though he has relieved himself of embarrassment by saying he did not get the Wilson note "officially" nevertheless will respect it and not force a crisis in Mexico's relations with the United States.

Judiciary Resigning

It appears today that the provisional president is likely soon to be the whole Mexican government. Already without a congress. He is apt to be without a judiciary. Four of the fifteen judges of the supreme court have resigned and it is said that the others will follow, some of them being expected to resign today.

Great Britain, Spain, France, Cuba, Norway and Guatemala today were expected to order warships into Mexican waters to furnish protection to their embassies and legations. If this action is taken, it will be in response to formal requests to those governments by their diplomats, following a conference of envoys called by the Spanish minister, senior of the corps.

Huerta's explanation of his high-handed action in jailing 110 members of congress was made today by one of his close adherents. He said that the deputies would not be harmed and would be liberated as soon as a new congress is elected. This election now is set for October 26.

Huerta dissolved congress and imprisoned the law makers, the statement said, because he had evidence that the deputies were actively aiding the rebels by passing arms to them.

Huerta Backs Down

WASHINGTON, Oct. 16.—Executive and diplomatic officials here today believed that President Huerta had developed a sudden contrition in his course of dictatorship, due to the emphatic stand taken by the United States and the success of the Washington administration in developing a disapproving attitude on the part of the foreign governments. But they suspect the wily provisional president of Mexico is merely carrying out a campaign of duplicity.

Huerta was still insisting today, according to unofficial advice, that the elections scheduled for October 26, would be held. But officials pointed out that the Mexican constitution prohibited balloting when the country was in a "state of disorder," and, moreover, the constitution apparently leaves to the president decision as to what constitutes disorder. Therefore officials would not be surprised to see Huerta insisting that the elections be held up to almost the very day of the balloting, and then suddenly proclaiming that the constitution must be observed and that the elections must be indefinitely postponed, because of unrest throughout the republic. Such a move, it was stated, would continue Huerta in power as provisional president, even if he did not formally proclaim himself dictator.

Officially today believed that the near-crisis in affairs between Mexico and the United States developed yesterday, had passed today, mainly because the United States had been able promptly to obtain backing from other nations and the threat of a fleet of naval vessels from all world powers strung along the Mexican coast, with possible withdrawal of recognition, had quieted Huerta considerably.

Charge d'Affaires O'Shaughnessy presented Huerta's curt note of warning to the Huerta government in an unofficial manner, simply because the American government did not desire in any way to accord recognition to the present Mexican regime, according to the statement of administration officials today.

START PLANS FOR WILSON WEDDING

Extreme Simplicity to Mark Marriage of President's Daughter at White House

WASHINGTON, Oct. 16.—With the expected arrival of Mrs. Woodrow Wilson tomorrow, plans for the white house wedding next month will begin to crystallize. In dictations today pointed to a curtailment of the guest list, although official and diplomatic society must be represented according to tradition.

Kin of the Wilson's will be present in large numbers. The bridegroom's family will be represented by fewer guests.

Lavish gifts from foreign potentates and Washington society will be fewer than at other white house weddings because of the Wilson's desire for simplicity. Diplomatic society already has planned to send only such simple gifts as flowers.

IRATE FATHER TOO LATE

WHEN SPARTA FATHER FINDS DAUGHTER HAS WEDDED AGAINST WILL HE WIRES FORGIVENESS

WINONA, Minn., Oct. 16.—An hour and a half after William Isness and Rosie Mers of Sparta, Wis., had been married in Winona yesterday, a message was received from the bride's father asking the police to arrest them, in an effort to prevent their marriage.

The father was advised that the service had been performed. The two were taken into custody, but later the father asked that they be released and permitted to return home to receive his forgiveness.

The girl stole from home at 1 a. m. to join the young man. They drove fifteen miles to Bangor, where they boarded a train at 5 a. m.

Try to White-Wash Pimples

People Who Attempt to Hide Unpleasant Pimples Behind Paint and Powder, Clog Their Pores and Coarsen Their Skin

Pimples are the source of the greatest chagrin and humiliation to the sensitive girl anxious for the admiration that beauty receives. And it is only natural that she tries to hide them behind paint and powder.

She little realizes, however, what almost irreparable injury she inflicts on her skin through the clogging and enlarging of the pores of the skin. The impurities in the blood that cause pimples have now no way of escape and new pimples break out not only on the face but on the shoulders, back and arms. Instead of improving her looks, she has spoiled whatever beauty was left her.

"There's No Use Trying. I can't Hide Pimples With Paint."

If she only knew how easily pimples can be cured with Stuart's Calcium Wafers, she would never use cosmetics again. Just as soon as her blood has been cleansed by the purifying agents of this sovereign remedy, all the foul conditions of her skin—pimples, blackheads, blemishes and liver spots—would quickly disappear. And the rosy cheeks and rich, glowing colors of a healthy, natural complexion will be a hundred fold more attractive than any she could possibly get out of a paint box or a powder rag.

Stuart's Calcium Wafers taken into the blood convert the impurities that have gathered in the pores into a gaseous form that readily escapes through the pores. At the same time, they stimulate the pores into throwing off the foul matter that has accumulated about them. The result is that the blood and skin are quickly freed of all impurities and restored to a healthy, vigorous condition. With pure blood, a healthy, beautiful skin will follow as certainly as day follows night.

If you have a pimply, broken out skin, you should clear it up at once with Stuart's Calcium Wafers. Don't wash your face. It fools nobody and only makes matters worse. There is only one remedy that is at once safe and effective—Stuart's Calcium Wafers—recommended by the best physicians. There is only one sure and quick way to beauty for you. That is a straight line to the nearest drug store for a 50c box of Stuart's Calcium Wafers. Start now.

MEAT INJURIOUS TO THE KIDNEYS

Take a tablespoonful of Salts if Back hurts or Bladder bothers.

We are a nation of meat eaters and our blood is filled with uric acid, says a well-known authority, who warns us to be constantly on guard against kidney trouble.

The kidneys do their utmost to free the blood of this irritating acid, but become weak from the overwork; they get sluggish; the eliminative tissues clog and thus the waste is retained in the blood to poison the entire system.

When your kidneys ache and feel like lumps of lead, and you have stinging pains in the back or the urine is cloudy, full of sediment, or the bladder is irritable, obliging you to seek relief during the night; when you have severe headaches, nervous and dizzy spells, sleeplessness, acid stomach or rheumatism in bad weather, get from your pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast each morning and in a few days your kidneys will act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush and stimulate clogged kidneys, to neutralize the acids in urine so it is no longer a source of irritation, thus ending urinary and bladder disorders.

Jad Salts is inexpensive and cannot injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink, and nobody can make a mistake by taking a little occasionally to keep the kidneys clean and active. Agent, Chas. Beyschlag, Druggist, 503 Main St.

MOTHER WORKS FAMILY IN JAIL

MILWAUKEE, Wis., Oct. 16.—Because "nobody worked but mother" at the Docket home at 1082 Thirteenth avenue, father and son—the two other members of the family—made the acquaintance of the police and now occupy cells in the house of correction.

Mrs. Docket not only supported herself, but her listless husband and son. She became a drudge and slaved over the washbuds to provide food for the family. John Docket, the father, frequented saloons.

A month ago he faced Judge Page and was sent to the work house for ninety days. On Wednesday William, the son, followed his father with a sixty day sentence. He was charged with vagrancy. According to Patrolman Wlesowski, who made the arrest, the boy stole $17 of his mother's hard earned savings.

GIRL MUST TAKE GYMNASIUM WORK

ASHLAND, Wis., Oct. 16.—Unless the courts reverse the ruling of the city school board the 14 year old daughter of E. H. Allen must wear bloomers, dance, do other gymnasium work and take shower baths, contrary to the wishes of her parents and the advice of a doctor.

By a divided vote the school board last night rejected the petition of Mr. Allen, through counsel, asking that the child be excused because not physically fit to undergo the exercises and the baths. The pupil, a member of a high school class, had been suspended when by wish of her parents she refused to take the prescribed work.

DRINKS ACID AT TABLE IN HOTEL

EAU CLAIRE, Wis., Oct. 16.—Uttering a prayer for the future safety of her children, Mrs. William Crowley, 30 years old, drank poison on Wednesday while seated with her husband at a table in a local hotel dining room. Just before she died Mrs. Crowley told physicians she had quarreled with her husband, it is alleged.

GETS DIVORCE FROM ALF. T. RINGLING

MADISON, Wis., Oct. 16.—Circuit Judge E. Ray Stevens today granted a divorce to Mrs. Della M. Ringling of Baraboo from Alfred T. Ringling of Ringling Bros.' circus.

Mrs. Ringling alleged cruel treatment, claiming that her husband compelled her to travel with him each year when she was sick and unable to do so.

By stipulation Mr. Ringling deeded to his wife several pieces of property at Baraboo and Mrs. Ringling is also to receive the interest and income on securities of $305,000 which are to be delivered to the Wisconsin Trust company at Milwaukee. Ringling was also ordered to pay his wife $5,000 for attorneys' fees and the costs and disbursements of the action. He did not fight the case.

Daddy's Bedtime Story

The Story Of the Old Willow Tree

DOWN by the brook there grew a big willow tree. Jack and Evelyn loved to go down and play beside it.

"It's a beautiful tree," daddy said. "I don't wonder the Japanese love the willow and have a pretty story about it."

"Once on a time in a certain village of Japan there grew a very beautiful willow tree. The people were all proud of it, but there was a young farmer named Heitaro who especially loved it."

"As a baby he had been carried under its sweeping branches, as a boy he had played under it and as a young man he liked to go there in the evening and rest while he looked out over the beautiful country."

"And one day as he sat thus he noticed a beautiful young girl a short distance away from him."

"He would have left for fear of being in the way, but the young lady did not seem to mind, so he stayed. And every evening after that she was there. In time he became acquainted with her, and when they had talked together he liked her so much that he asked her to be his wife. And always when they talked she seemed most pleased when he praised the old willow tree. She said her name was Higo, which is Japanese for willow."

"By and by they were married and went to live in the little farmhouse which Heitaro owned. They were very happy together."

"One day it was told in the village that the emperor wished to build a fine bridge over the river. The people were asked to give their best tree for the bridge."

"The villagers said there was no tree more beautiful than their tall willow and that it was the tree which ought to go to the emperor."

"When Heitaro heard this he was much grieved. He offered to give the best tree off his own farm if they would let the old willow stand. But they would not have it."

"So Heitaro went home and told Higo that in spite of all he could do the villagers meant to chop down the old willow tree to help build the bridge."

"When she heard this, Higo began to cry and ring her hands."

"Oh, my dear husband," she wept, "I am the spirit of the old willow tree, and when it is chopped down I must leave you, for I can no longer wear this human form."

"Poor Heitaro knew not what to do. He held his weeping wife in his arms until gradually she faded away. As the tree fell to the ground she vanished and was seen no more."

The New Gas Works

is now in operation and the results we expect to obtain should revolutionize the service heretofore supplied. The Gas & Electric Company is one of the oldest institutions in this city and the work accomplished this summer has been along lines of improving the service as well as increasing the capacity of the plant. We will be able to manufacture gas of a more uniform quality, both as regards heating value and purity, and we will be able to deliver it at a UNIFORM PRESSURE. This will mean a much greater efficiency and more satisfactory results.

If you do not get as good results at noon as you do at any other hour of the day, phone us at once.

GIRLS! CLEAN AND BEAUTIFY HAIR NO DANDRUFF—25 CENT DANDERINE

Stop washing hair! Try this! Makes it glossy, soft and abundant.

Surely try a "Danderine Hair Cleanse" if you wish to immediately double the beauty of your hair. Just moisten a cloth with Danderine and draw it carefully through your hair, taking one small strand at a time, this will cleanse the hair of dust, dirt or any excessive oil—in a few minutes you will be amazed. Your hair will be wavy, fluffy and abundant and possess an incomparable softness, lustre and luxuriance.

Besides beautifying the hair, one application of Danderine dissolves every particle of dandruff; invigorates the scalp, stopping itching and falling hair.

Danderine is to the hair what fresh showers of rain and sunshine are to vegetation. It goes right to the roots, invigorates and strengthens them. Its exhilarating, stimulating and life-producing properties cause the hair to grow long, strong and beautiful.

You can surely have pretty, soft, lustrous hair, and lots of it, if you will just get a 25 cent bottle of Knowlton's Danderine from any drug store or toilet counter and try it as directed.

GIVE UP BUTTER?
BREAD TOO THEN
Among other health measures enforced at Vassar college, it is reported that the girls are not to be supplied with butter this fall.
Yet butter all comes from the
cow, like milk, and is an important
constituent of the most natural food
the world contains. It adds tang to the staff of life, and converts the severity of a slice of bread into a rich
satisfaction for the hungry man.
It is true that the peoples of Southern Europe and other countries subsist largely without butter. But it is largely an economy habit, the fru-
gal custom of a people whose imperfect industrial life restricts their means of subsistence.
If Vassar has really cut out butter from its table, it of course does
so from a belief that the students will be healthier without it. But is not a wholesome diet dependent on appetite as well as chemical formulas? To most people bread without butter would be so unattractive that
but little would be eaten.
"UNPLEASANT" NEWS
MUST BE PUBLISHED
The assertion of our good friend,
the city attorney, that the newspapers "conceived the idea of creating a dispute," meaning the police controversy, strikes us as gratuitous.
Were the statement true, it could have no bearing upon the facts, nor
in any way influence the judgment
of the commissioners. Evidently it was injected into the debate for no
other purpose than to rebuke the newspapers.
The city attorney is well aware
that the quarrel between the mayor
and the chief is one of long standing,
and that the present dispute as to authority is but an outcropping of that quarrel. Therefore we presume that his real intent was to stamp as an impropriety the publication of the facts. The publication of facts concerning any controversy between public officials might, with equal accuracy, be termed "unpleasant newspaper notoriety" and "unfortunate
publicity," but instead of "unfortunate publicity" he should have said
"publicity about unfortunate facts."
We hardly expect his implied dictum that what is unfortunate should not be published will be adopted as an amendment to the ethical code of journalism. The public is entitled to the facts, and if the newspapers

have been derelict in this instance it was in their failure to discuss the "unfortunate" situation until there
had developed a condition which
could no longer be obscured.
We reiterate our assertion that the present trial of a question of authority is but a symptom, that the real issue is the belief of the mayor
that the present chief is incompetent,
and that there will be no end to the disagreeable situation until the merit
of the issue of his fitness has been tried. No other question having come before the commission, it is proper that the question of authority be tried and definitely determined, but irrespective of the trend of
that decision, the major unpleasantness will continue.
We have no desire to debate a question of newspaper ethics with
the city attorney, but lest his remarks, made in a public hearing,
mislead any of our readers, we take
this occasion to say that the story
which announced the precipitation
of the fight over police control was duly authenticated by competent official authority, and that every statement made in it has been corroborated by existing facts and subsequent developments.

"RALLY DAY" FOR SUNDAY SCHOOLS
We note that in the east many of the Sunday schools and churches are holding a "Rally day," usually at some date in October. Sluggish pupils are rounded up by the use of colored postcards.
Every Sunday used to be a rally
Sunday in the old time churches.
But that was before automobiles
were invented. Many people now
feel that they can only worship satisfactorily at a rate of 40 miles per hour.
Then, too, the danger of going to church in the rain is appreciated as never before. Showery clouds constitute a warning that should not be lightly viewed. Of course nothing could be done in the churches during September, as the congregation had
not recovered from summer heat.
October removes some of these excuses and the congregations begin to fill up. The small boy must soon
consider the approach of Christmas.
If a sense of fair play is cultivated,
he can perhaps be made to feel that he should give at least two months'
attendance in return for the Christmas present.
Now will some perniciously ob-
servant citizen bob up like a sore
thumb and admonish us to "practice what you preach?"
The plight is so pitiful of the office seekers that have been hanging around Washington, that they should be given jobs running some of the new aeroplanes the war department
has called for.
Mrs. Pankhurst will find sentiment in this country against window smashing, but she might go out with the other kids Hallowe'en and
remove some gates and window
blinds.
Formerly the Indians used to
scalp the white people. Now Chief Bender of the Chippewas creates
much more consternation by striking
out their best batters.
Formerly kind hearted people
used to establish watering troughs
along the country roads, but now
gasoline stations are needed much more.
Paderewski is touring the country again, playing better than ever,
but it is hoped he does not spoil his
technique by having his hair cut.
Plain Arabic numerals are here-
after to be used on all United States
buildings, in spite of the fact that
the people can read them easily.
Mother's day is already a fixed custom. Father's day is coming, but grandmother remains unwept, un-
honored and unsung.
Quite likely T. R. will take a few days off from his South American
program for a side trip to the south pole.
So far Jerome has not been jailed
for annoying Harry Thaw.
To be Paid by Grandma
"I want some cloth to make my dolly a dress," announced a little girl of seven as she entered a store
the other day.
"How much is it?" she asked
when the merchant handed her the package.
"Just one kiss," was the reply.
"All right," she said. "Grandma
said she would pay you when she came in tomorrow."
The British home office let a hunger striker die in jail just because he was a man. Will this hateful sex discrimination never stop?

Quips and Cranks
and Wanton Wiles
A Model Husband
This husband never roams about
The village streets at nights;
This husband never scolds his wife
Or starts domestic fights.
He never twits her of her folks
Nor makes fun of her hats,
Nor criticizes the things she cooks,
Nor loves those household spats.
He never lies to her about
A single blessed thing;
He does not raise derisive shout
When she gets up to sing
He doesn't question her about
The money she has spent;
He doesn't force her to account
For every last red cent.
This husband doesn't howl hard
times
Or deal in poorhouse talk;
He does not act the martinet
And make her walk the chalk
He does not tell her what she was
Before the two were wed;
No wonder he behaves himself,
This husband, he is dead.

Worth Fattening
There never was such a baby;
There never was, never had been and
never could be under any conceivable
circumstances on earth.
"Molly, my love," cried daddy,
bouncing in upon his 7 year old,
"Uncle George has just arrived, and he's enraptured. He said: 'There never was such a baby,' and he offered to buy her for a sovereign an ounce."
"You're not going to sell her, are
you?" asked Molly, with wide open eyes.
"No, my precious," cried the delighted father, embracing her affectionately over this show of proper sentiment.
"Because," resumed Molly, "she'll
be heavier when she's older, and I'll fetch more!"
A Reflection Upon "Pa"
A lady once showed her little girl
a beautiful new silk dress which had
just arrived from the dressmaker,
and by way of improving the occasion she said:
"You know, dear, all this was given us by a poor worm."
The little girl looked puzzled for a minute or two, and then said:
"Do you mean dad, mamma?"
Wifely as a Gardener
Very newly wed they were. They were also very happy, quite inexperienced and somewhat silly. Besides, they had a new home and a
"truck patch."
"Susie, honey," he said, "I've been
in the garden and I saw some asparagus ready for cooking. You shall have the pleasure of gathering the
first fruit of the season."
She would love to, but she wasn't expert in horticulture and didn't want to "let on." If she went alone
she might commit some egregious
blunder.
"I tell you what, Edwin," exclaimed the girl wife, enthusiastically,
"we'll go out together. You shall pluck it and I will hold the ladder."
A Truthful Mother
In the vicinity of Germantown
there lived a worthy old lady and her son John, who were once called upon to entertain a number of ladies
at dinner during quarterly meeting.
As John began to carve the broiled
chickens he entered upon a flowery
speech of welcome, but in the midst
of his flattering utterances his mother, who was somewhat deaf,
piped up from the other end of the table: "You needn't be praisin' of em, up, John; I'm afraid they're a lot of tough old hens, every one of em."

PARENT-TEACHERS' ASSOCIATION MEETS
The Parents' and Teachers' association of the high school held a meeting in the Hixon gymnasium last night. Mr. Benetz gave a talk in which he explained the budget for the year and the reasons for its increase and told of the efforts of the school board to prune it down.
A vote of thanks was extended to the faculty and students of the high school who furnished the entertainment at the last meeting.
It was also recommended that a committee be appointed to secure
new members and to persuade all
those eligible to join.
Officers for the year were elected
and are as follows: Mr. Keller, president; Mr. Kline, vice president, and Mrs. O. Oyen, treasurer.
At a meeting of the girls last night
a girls' literary society was organiz-

pointed and a committee to draw up
a constitution and by laws was selected. No name has yet been decided upon. They will meet again
Tuesday after school to elect offi-

by-laws. Miss Johnson is heading the movement.

A new line of amateurs entirely different from any previously seen
will appear after the last act Friday

tending the matinee will receive a
present free and many valuable feature gifts will be given away.
A live pig will be turned loose on the stage on Saturday night and some person in the audience will go on the stage and attempt to catch the pig
and take it away.

whether a man who gave the name
of E. R. Grable of Pittsburg is a le-

ing that he is a leper. He was immediately isolated. He says that he had been pronounced a leper three years ago at Pocatello, Idaho, and also at Salt Lake. He first gave the name of John W. Kach, saying his family lived at Oden, Utah.

CHAPTER XX.
The Stone Staircase.
Battista's prisoner stood at the
barred window high up the steep
side of the castle and stared out
wistfully at the receding infinity of blueness—his meadow. In the three months since his letter had gone to France, he had grown old. The juices of his youth seemed dried
up; his eyes were bloodshot, his skin yellow; there was no flesh on
him. The waiting and hoping had worn on him more than the dead
level of the hopeless years before.
There was a new tenseness in the
lightly-built figure, even in the long,
delicate, strong fingers. The prisoner had caught a whiff of the air
of home and was choking for a full breath.
It had not been so before. The brightness of his temperament had done him good service at first.
Eager, vehement, energetic, he had
the heart of a contented little child,
and it had led him to play and be happy in his prison, as a buoyant
child will make a boat of the chair
in which he is set for a punishment
and sail away into adventures. This man, developing out of the boy
thrown into prison five years ago,
might well prove to have limitations. Full of force and fire and gentleness, he had the virtues of his qualities, but he had their defects, too. It might yet well be that he would fall short in sober judgment; it might be that he would not be found fitted for any complication of responsibility. Yet there was in him something of the vision
of the mystic, something of that power—called what it may be—
which has in all ages worked miracles and moved mountains. Out of his companions, sea and sky and
distance—out of great spaces outside and great silence inside his prison he had drawn power, and risen step by step in the years. On the foundation of the Catholicism
in which he had been brought up he had built a religion whose breadth
reached right and left beyond the old measure and covered living
things with the charity which suffers long and is kind; whose height
stretched up into hopes undefined,
of things unseen. All of this had comforted him and kept the glow of
his soul undimmed.
But since Battista's son, the little Battista—who had been a fisherman and not much known about the castle—since he had gone to France
with those two letters of Francois',
sewed into his right coat sleeve, a restlessness all but unendurable had seized the prisoner. He knew as well as his jailer, tales of men thrown into dungeons coming out many years after old and broken—of men
never coming out at all. No crueler tyrants than the Austrians ever ruled, and no more pitiless. And now that his letters had actually gone, now that they might actually
be in the hands of the people he loved and who loved him, unrest
tormented him. He counted the days of the journey, the chances of delay, he made allowances, and at last he believed, with a thrill of joy and of pain at each thought of
it, that little Battista must have arrived at Vicques, that his mother
and Alixe must have his letters.
With that, unrest grew fiercer. They could not help him. What could they do? How could they do anything against the iron wall of Austrian power?
He said such things over to himself, even aloud, to keep down a hope which he could not bear to let grow, for fear of the anguish of its slow death. But the hope grew and was anguish in its growth. He could not help hoping, believing, that the general, that Pietro, that Alixe,
with her force and energy and inventiveness, would yet save him.
And the hope and the fear racked
him and he wasted away and burned
as with fever.
"You are not well, my friend,"
said the governor. "The doctor
must see you."
But Francois refused lightly and
laughed and fell to singing an old peasant song of France which he had remembered lately; he got up on the table and droned it to an imaginary fiddle which he pretended
to play after the manner of old Jacques Arne, who played for the dances in Vicques.
"De tous cote's l'on dit que je suis
bete—
Cela se peut! Et cependant j'en ris
Car, mes amis, si j'y perds la tete,
Je n'y perds pas pour cela, l'appetit!"
Assis a table, a l'ombre d'une treille,
Je bois et ris
Et gaiment je m'ecrie
En avalant bouteille sur bouteille,
A quoi sert l'esprit!"
So ran the song. And the governor was taken with a violent fancy
for it. He roared at it, and sang it

Every well regulated toilet table

banishing hairy growths. To re-

make a paste with a little delatone

over in fragments till he had learned it, and then he sang it and
roared again and slapped his knee;
there was a droll comedy in Francois' rendering also, not to be explained—and the count said that Francois must come to his rooms
the next night for dinner and sing
him the song again and also listen
to a new one of his own.
So Francois was taken down the stone staircase and conducted to
the two rooms which were the governor's suite. He knew them well,
for he had dined, as has been said,
many times with the count. But tonight he was left alone a few moments in the outer room, the livingroom, while the governor was in the bedroom, and he looked about keenly
with a strained attention which grew out of the suppressed hope of escape. Who knew what bit of knowledge of the castle might be vital, and who knew how soon? He noted the swords and pistols hanging on the wall, and marked a light
saber whose scabbard was brightly
polished as if the blade also were kept in good order. On the table he saw the flint and steel with which Count von Gersdorf lighted his pipe; he stepped to the window and bent out, scanning the wall. A stone coping, wide enough for a man's
foot, but little more, ran four feet
below; ten feet beyond the window
it ended in the roof of a shed, a sloping roof where a man could drop down, yes, or even climb up with ease. A man, that is, who had climbed when a boy as Francois
had climbed—like a cat for certainty and lightness. But what then,
when one was in the court yard?
It was walled about with a stone
wall sixteen feet high; these old ancestors of Pietro, who had built this place, had planned well to keep Pietro's friend in prison.

Men's Coats for Women

IF you put on a Man's Overcoat you'll find a number of interesting things about it. The sleeves will be too long; it will not fit very well over the shoulders and across the bust.

BUT you'll like the way it's tailored; you'll like the plenty of pockets to put your hands and things in; you'll like the smart, stylish appearance it would give if it fitted.

SO many women have discovered these facts, that HART SCHAFFNER AND MARX, makers of the best clothes for men, have made men's coats for women; the sleeves, the shoulders, the bust are made to fit women; all the other advantages are there; tailoring, pockets, style, warmth.

We have here for your inspection three (3) of the leading models, also a style book showing their complete range of styles, together with a large selection of cloth samples for your choosing.

Money Saved
by Making Your Cough Syrup at Home
Takes But a Few Moments,
and Stops a Hard Cough
in a Hurry.

Cough medicines, as a rule, contain a large quantity of plain syrup. If you take one pint of granulated sugar, add ½ pint of warm water and stir about 2 minutes, you have as good syrup as money could buy.

If you will then put 2½ ounces of Pinex (fifty cents' worth) in a pint bottle, and fill it up with the Sugar Syrup, you will have as much cough syrup as you could buy ready made for $2.50. Take a teaspoonful every one, two or three hours. It keeps perfectly.

You will find it one of the best cough syrups you ever used—even in whooping cough. You can feel it take hold—usually conquers an ordinary cough in 24 hours. It is just laxative enough, has a good tonic effect, and the taste is pleasant.

It is a splendid remedy, too, for whooping cough, spasmodic croup, hoarseness and bronchial asthma.

Pinex is a most valuable concentrated compound of Norway white pine extract, rich in guaiacol and other healing pine elements. No other preparation will work in this formula.

This plan for making cough remedy with Pinex and Sugar Syrup is now used in more homes than any other cough remedy. The plan has often been imitated but never successfully.

A guaranty of absolute satisfaction, or money promptly refunded, goes with this preparation. Your druggist has Pinex, or will get it for you. If not, send to The Pinex Co., Ft. Wayne, Ind.

BLAMES DAUGHTER FOR EATON MURDER

State Asserts Mother Poisoned Admiral at Behest of Step-child

COURT HOUSE, PLYMOUTH, Mass., Oct. 16.—The jealousy of Mrs. Jennie May Eaton, and the influence of her daughter, Mrs. Keyes, who continually "struck fire" with Rear Admiral Joseph G. Eaton, her step-father, were the causes which led to the alleged murder of the admiral, according to the outline of the prosecution's case against Mrs. Eaton as made today by Assistant District Attorney Katzman, at the opening of the trial.

Katzman charged that Mrs. Eaton was unreasonably jealous; that she accused her husband of poisoning a boy baby which was adopted into the household and later constantly reiterated the charge that the admiral had tried to poison herself and daughter. In all things the mother followed the guiding mind of her daughter, Katzman declared.

Mrs. Eaton, calm but intent on every move, leaned forward eagerly listening, and when a short recess was ordered, she stepped to a window and breathed deeply of fresh air.

ST. WENCESLAUS FAIR A SUCCESS

If happy-go-lucky audiences are in any way an indication of success, the St. Wenceslaus bazaar, now being conducted at the school hall, gives every promise of being such. Since the opening of the fair by the Rev. Dr. Condon Sunday evening, large crowds have been present, and reports indicate that the enthusiasm will continue during the balance of the week. Wednesday evening a delegation from the St. Mary's church, headed by Dr. Condon, James B. Murray, Mr. Boschert and others, made things lively. The principal attraction was the talk on "American Citizenship" by John F. Dougherty. The attentive audience packed to the doors, was a compliment to the speaker's popularity, and he was roundly applauded.

The handiwork sent by Mrs. Woodrow Wilson, Eleanor Wilson, Mrs. W. J. Bryan, Mrs. Pierce of Philadelphia, Mrs. John Dengler, Mrs. Pamperin and Mrs. Wm. K. Funke, was auctioned off and brought a tidy sum. Attorney A. H. Schubert secured the handkerchief sent by Mrs. Wilson, bidding five dollars. There were about twenty bids of one dollar each for the other pieces, and the bidders were compelled to draw numbers to determine the contest.

About three hundred people were served at supper early in the evening.

A large delegation from the Park store, headed by Mr. Doerflinger, was also present. Kreutz's orchestra furnished the music.

Tonight is market day at the fair, and folk costumes will be worn by those in charge of this evening's entertainment.

Don't Poison Baby.

FORTY YEARS AGO almost every mother thought her child must have PAREGORIC or laudanum to make it sleep. These drugs will produce the SLEEP FROM WHICH THERE IS NO WAKING. Many are the children who have been killed or whose health has been ruined for life by paregoric, laudanum and morphine, each of which is a narcotic product of opium. Druggists are prohibited from selling either of the narcotics named to children at all, or to anybody without labelling them "poison." The definition of "narcotic" is: "A medicine which relieves pain and produces sleep, but which in poisonous doses produces stupor, coma, convulsions and death." The taste and smell of medicines containing opium are disguised, and sold under the names of "Drops," "Cordials," "Soothing Syrups," etc. You should not permit any medicine to be given to your children without your or your physician's knowledge of what it is composed. CASTORIA DOES NOT CONTAIN NARCOTICS, if it bears the signature of Chas. H. Fletcher.

NEW ILLUSTRATED BOOK ON PANAMA

Showing the World's Great Waterway in Picture and Prose from Beginning to End

No similar book ever published will be so widely read as "Panama and the Canal in Picture and Prose," which The Tribune presents to its readers on the plan explained elsewhere in this issue. It is a great big, beautiful volume, twice the size of an ordinary novel, and contains the complete story of the Panama Canal in picture and prose.

Willis J. Abbot, the author of this book, has for many years been a writer on international topics. This has not only fitted him for handling the subject in question, but has given him a large acquaintance among officials who have been instrumental in building this mighty inter-oceanic waterway. So the story is complete, from the time when Columbus sought for a natural water course to the Pacific ocean, up through the centuries of revolution and warfare, and on through to the realization of the greatest achievement of this day and age. It tells of the people and the country; the various strange modes of life; the occupations, sports and pastimes of the natives; how they live and dress; in fact, it is filled with local color and heart interest set forth in a chatty style that at once grasps and holds the reader to the very end.

Such a work cannot help to be of vast importance in the education of all who would desire to keep abreast of the times. The old as well as the young will find information of rare educational value throughout this volume. The illustrations cover every subject treated. They consist of more than 600 photographic reproductions, and include numerous full pages in color that portray the richness of the scenery in this great tropical garden. No similar work was ever so profusely and expensively illustrated.

The Tribune wants every one of its readers to have a copy of this beautiful new illustrated book, and to that end a certificate is printed daily in these columns, six of which enable the bearer to get it when accompanied by a small expense fee to cover the actual cost of the various items of distribution. This is all explained in the Panama certificate.

Culture.

Culture is a word we often fight shy of by reason of certain unfortunate connotations. Here is a masterly definition of culture by the English philosopher Bosanquet:

"The habit of a mind instinct with purpose, cognizant of a tendency and connection in human achievement, able and industrious in discerning the great from the trivial."

Twenty-seven words are enough to phrase this noble conception of a noble quality.—Collier's Weekly.

WITNESS AFTER WITNESS IN LA CROSSE

Such Evidence Our Readers Cannot Dispute

As we take up the Tribune week by week, we are struck by the hearty, unmistakable way in which witness after witness speaks out as Mr. Brown does here. If these people were strangers living miles away, we might take little notice of them. But they are not. They are our neighbors, living among us. Their word is too easily proven to admit of any doubt. They speak out in the hope that their experience may be a guide to others.

L. L. Brown, 403 S. Eighth St., La Crosse, Wis., says: "I have used Doan's Kidney Pills and have found them to be just as represented. I suffered from a lame back for quite awhile. I had a constant, dull ache across my loins and rubbing with liniments didn't help me. I made inquiries about a kidney medicine and a druggist recommended Doan's Kidney Pills. I got some and they cured me completely. I have recommended Doan's Kidney Pills before and I am glad to do so again. They are reliable and have my highest endorsement."

WOMAN CAN RUN BUT CAN'T SERVE

CUMBERLAND, Md., Oct. 16.—Suffragists in Maryland found a little satisfaction today in the manner in which Judge Robert Henderson ruled in the proceedings instituted by Mrs. Grace Koentz of Midland, to have her name placed on the November ballot as socialist candidate for treasurer of Allegany county. The judge ruled the name must go on the ballot, as Maryland women have civil rights, but that Mrs. Koentz, if elected, cannot serve, because Maryland women have no political rights.

SUIT QUESTIONS MAN'S EXISTENCE

"Does Anderson Exist" Is Question Which Baffles Court in St. Paul Land Case

AGAINST FORMER LOCAL PEOPLE

Widow of St. Paul Financier Charges Fraud in the Name of Anderson Alleged to Be Fictitious

ST. PAUL, Minn., Oct. 16.—The age of Ann, what became of Charley Ross, why a black hen lays a white egg and similar brain ticklers are the easiest sort of puzzles compared with the identity of Charles W. Anderson as wrestled with by District Judge William Lewis Kelly for the past four days in the case of Mary Branch against Mrs. L. M. Dunn and W. S. Dunn who at one time lived in La Crosse. The suit involves Washington land and the real facts seem shrouded in mystery. Its trial was replete with clashes between the lawyers, T. R. Kane and E. W. Helmes for Mrs. Branch, contending that Charles W. Anderson was a real flesh and blood person in the form of one of the defendants and Attorney Fred H. Hartwell of La Crosse and Leo Kennedy of this city insisting that Anderson existed only as a mythical personage, invented by Mrs. Branch to assist her in evading her creditors.

Family skeletons rattled their bones with great eclat and the ghosts of former years of wealth and prosperity and later periods of adversity of one of the once wealthiest and most prominent pioneer families of St. Paul stalked the court room floor amidst the tears of its members.

It was the second trial of the case, District Judge Catlin having once decided the case in favor of the Duns, then ordering a new trial on new evidence, later commencing the hearing of the case anew and finally after much testimony being taken, throwing up his hands in despair, asking and receiving the consent of the parties to a continuance and finally having the case assigned to Judge Kelly before whom the third attempt to solve its mysteries started Monday morning.

Judge Kelly announced at the close of the case that he was satisfied that Charles W. Anderson never existed but as to who invented him and for what purpose he would decide later.

Mrs. Branch, now nearly ninety years of age, and the widow of William Branch, pioneer capitalist and railroad builder of St. Paul, some years after his death, owned a tract of land in Asotin county, Washington as about the only property left of the once valuable estate. She charges that the Duns wishing to secure possession of this property represented they had a buyer for it and she made a deed which she afterwards found was filled in to a Charles W. Anderson, who, she claims, she never knew. Later she secured a power of attorney from Anderson allowing her to sell the land, she keeping the proceeds of the sale. After selling most of the land and after taking back mortgages and notes for payment of a part of the selling price she found that a revocation of the power of attorney had been filed in Washington signed by the same Charles W. Anderson and she cannot collect the balance until this revocation of the power of attorney is set aside. To do this is the object of the suit. Matters were complicated further by the Duns showing good faith and disclaiming any interest in the property and offering to execute deeds in their own name to Mrs. Branch but they refused to do so in the name of Anderson, insisting they knew nothing of him.

Circuit Judge Blenski of Milwaukee, who witnessed and acknowledged the power of attorney, signed Charles W. Anderson, testified that it was not executed by either Dunn or his wife. Records were introduced showing Mrs. Branch went into bankruptcy and in a lawsuit to avoid payment to one of the creditors, swore that Anderson was a cousin from England, a wealthy mine owner from whom she had borrowed large sums of money and testimony was introduced tending to show she had told other persons the same thing.

On the other hand experts and other witnesses testified that signatures and letters in the transaction purporting to be signed by Anderson were in Mrs. Dunn's handwriting. She and other witnesses swore as positively that were not.

Assistant United States District Attorney Dickey was a witness and the names of several world famous financiers appeared among those to whom letters of introduction were given in order to expedite the winding up of the Branch estate.

Mrs. Dunn is a daughter of Mrs. Branch and much family history was gone into.

POOR FARM INMATE FOUND DEAD TODAY

Charles Cook Dies of Heart Failure While Wading Across Shallow Slough on County Grounds

Charles Cook, aged 93, inmate of the La Crosse county poor farm, was found dead this morning. The body was lying face up in a shallow creek on the county grounds. Death was due to heart failure and not drowning, in the opinion of Herman Langstedt, coroner.

The aged man left the farm Tuesday to visit his daughter, Mrs. Frank Poehling, 1517 Farwell street. He spent the day and night there leaving on the return trip to the farm Wednesday morning. Failing to arrive, a search was started which ended in the finding of the body this morning.

The shoes and stockings of the old man were found several yards from the creek. It is believed that Mr. Cook, who had shown his age greatly recently, suffered from a temporary mental disorder and started to wade the creek rather than cross the bridge. The cold water, striking his bare feet, affected his heart.

"DAMAGED GOODS" CAUSE OF TRAGEDY

In Plight Depicted in Play According to Doctor Pair Enter Suicide Pact

WOMAN DEAD—MAN WILL LIVE

Slashes Wife's Throat and Fires Bullet Into His Own Temple

CHICAGO, Oct. 16.—After celebrating their tenth wedding anniversary by seeing a performance of the much talked of play, "Damaged Goods," William C. Ellis, wealthy Cincinnati leather dealer, and his wife attempted to carry out a suicide pact in the Hotel Sherman today.

The woman's body, with her head nearly decapitated, was found lying on the floor of their room. Ellis himself was found unconscious, blood streaming from a wound in his throat. He had slashed himself with a penknife.

Will be Helpless
Ellis' temple was pierced by a bullet from a small caliber revolver, and the revolver lay across the bed. He was hurried to the Iroquois hospital, where it was said his wound was not necessarily fatal, but that if he recovers he will be helpless for the remainder of his life.

Morris Ebersole, a friend of the Ellis family, first notified the hotel management of the tragedy. The telephone at the Ebersole home rang at noon and Mrs. Ebersole, taking down the receiver, heard an excited voice say:

"This is Ellis at the Sherman hotel. There has been a terrible tragedy in our room. Please notify the police."

Mrs. Ebersole telephoned Manager Frank Bering of the hotel. Accompanied by Dr. A. H. Waterman, house physician, Bering rushed upstairs and broke down the door of the room occupied by the Ellises.

"The woman is dead," said Waterman, after a hasty examination. "Bring me some water."

The physician dashed a glass of water in Ellis' face and he came to his senses.

"We agreed to die together, and I did it," Dr. Waterman says Ellis first moaned. Then, according to the physician, he changed the statement, and declared: "We agreed to die together. She cut her throat, and I cut mine, and then shot myself. I hope I die, too."

Blame Laid to Play

The hotel physician examined Ellis before he was taken to the hospital, where he is under guard. "I believe that the man was suffering from a recurrence of a venereal disease," he told reporters. "The effect of such a recurrence naturally was to cause a softening of the brain disease. Ellis and his wife probably saw 'Damaged Goods,' came face to face with the horrible possibilities that follow such diseases and determined to end their lives together."

"Damaged Goods," Richard Brien's startling attack through the drama upon the assumption of marital relations by persons, one of whom has contracted venereal disease, has been playing in Chicago for several weeks and attracted widespread attention.

Ellis is about 45 years old. His wife was about 30 and a strikingly beautiful woman. In their room was found a picture of two children.

WOULD BRAND MEN WITH VICE DISEASE

PITTSBURG, Pa., Oct. 16.—The ghost of Hawthorne stalked through the Hotel Schenley here today. And it was a woman, Lady Cook, formerly Tennessee Claflin who called it in. Lady Cook would apply, in radical form, the idea of "The Scarlet Letter" to all men contracting the disease of vice by branding them upon their wrists. In an interview she said:

"God put the brand of murder on the brow of Cain and why should man not brand another man? My method may sound terrible—it may sound cruel—but it is not one millionth part so cruel as to allow an infected man to marry a good pure woman, and, worst of all, bring blind, or idiotic or deformed children into the world."

Rheumatism

A Home Cure Given by One Who Had It

In the spring of 1903 I was attacked by Muscular and Inflammatory Rheumatism. I suffered as only those who have it know, for over three years. I tried every remedy after remedy, and doctor after doctor, but such relief as I received was only temporary. Finally, I found a remedy that cured me completely, and it has never returned. I have given it to a number who were terribly afflicted and even bedridden with Rheumatism, and it effected a cure in every case. I want every sufferer from any form of rheumatic trouble to try this marvelous healing power. Don't send a cent; simply mail free to try. After you have used it and it has proven itself to be that long-looked-for means of curing your Rheumatism, you may send the price of it, one dollar, but, understand, I do not want your money unless you are perfectly satisfied to send it. Don't that relief is thus offered you free? Don't delay. Write today.

WANTED AT VICTORY BOYS CAUGHT HERE

Young Men Alleged to Have Tried to Enter Room of Girls Nabbed at the Burlington Depot

Peter Smith, aged 21, Chicago, and Arthur Reynier, aged 19, Broken Bow, Mont., were arrested in La Crosse yesterday by Edward Bailey, marshal of Victory, Wis., and A. D. Darrow, special agent for the C. B. & Q. railway company. They were wanted at Victory for attempting to enter the room of two young girls there.

According to the story of the town marshal, who came for the men today, they attempted to get into the sleeping apartments of the Misses Ruby and Clarice Spalding at Victory. The girls are the adopted daughters of William Mellen.

Alarmed, the girls called their brother who shot at the men. One, following the shooting, fell down and it was believed he was wounded. Later it was discovered that he was not injured. The village marshal took him to the depot and left him there while he went to find his "pal." He didn't find the other and when he returned the man he had "captured" was gone.

Bailey came to La Crosse to learn where the men, who had been working with a section gang at Victory, would have to go to get their pay. Darrow, the Burlington's special agent, assisted him in getting the information at the local offices. Coming out of the depot they found the two men they were hunting seated on the platform.

The youths at the police station this morning took the entire matter as a joke and said they had been drinking prior to their alleged attempt to get into the room.

They were taken to Victory by Marshal Bailey.

BOYS REPORT TO POLICE LOSS OF IRON BOX WITH $20,000 FOUND BY THEM BE-SIDE RAILROAD

CALUMET, Mich., Oct. 16.—The entire sheriff's force of this county today started search today for an iron box said to contain $20,000 found and lost by William Leclerc and Joe Tremblay, 12 year old boys.

According to the story told the authorities by the lads they found the money lying by a railroad track near here about nine months ago. They dipped into the chest from time to time, but never took more than five dollars at a time. Local shopkeepers have noticed that the boys were always liberally supplied with money.

Last night the two went to the spot where they had hidden the money after finding it, and discovered it had been stolen. They told their parents and the authorities were notified.

The lads said the money was in small new bills, that it was wrapped in neat packages, and the amount labeled on the outside of each package. They said it totaled twenty thousand dollars, but officers believe this is exaggerated.

REFUSE WILSON REQUEST

WASHINGTON, Oct. 16.—President Wilson made no progress today when he attempted to persuade Senators Hitchcock of Nebraska and Reed of Missouri, insurgent democratic members of the senate banking committee, to join in getting the currency bill into the senate this special session. He was told that the bill would have to be radically amended and could not be passed this session.

WOMAN ALLEGES BRIBERY ATTEMPT

Notorious Woman Says Attorneys for Beilis Tried to Get Her to Admit Crime

Protest Arises from All Quarters Over Russian "Ritual Murder" Trial

KIEFF, Russia, Oct. 16.—A tale of bribery was injected into the "ritual murder" trial this afternoon by Vera Cheberyak, a notorious woman, mother of Eugene and Valentine Cheberyak, the dead playmates of Andrew Yushinsky. She testified that the journalist, Brushkovsky, told her that her husband might lose his position in the Kieff postoffice, unless the Cheberyaks' parents and children helped to run down the murderers of Yushinsky. Furthermore, she said Brushkovsky offered a large sum of money to take her abroad, if she would assume the guilt of Andrew's murder.

Allege $20,000 Bribe
The Cheberyak woman also swore that Margolin, lawyer for Beilis, offered her $20,000 if she would say she killed the Christian boy.

Today's witnesses at the "ritual murder" trial, though testifying for the prosecution, tended to strengthen the contention of the defense that the murder of Andrew Yushinsky was the result of a conspiracy and that the indictment of the Jew, Mendel Beilis, was brought about by the same conspirators.

There was more evidence given that Eugene and Valentine Cheberyak, the last children to see Yushinsky alive, who have since died, were murdered by those seeking to convict Beilis.

Miss Addams Speaks

CHICAGO, Oct. 16.—Miss Jane Addams and Mrs. Ella Flag Young, superintendent of the Chicago public schools, will speak at a mass meeting in protest against the trial of Mendel Beilis at Kieff.

CINCINNATI, Oct. 16.—Russia should be regarded as a moral leper by other nations because of its treatment of the Jews, declared Rabbi David Phillipson, in an address on "The Tragedy of the Jew" here today. Referring to the trial of Mendel Beilis for alleged ritual murder, Rabbi Phillipson said:

"The Beilis trial is proof conclusive that Russia should be considered an outcast by the civil organizations of the world."

WASHINGTON, Oct. 16.—Congressional protest in behalf of the American people against alleged attempts at Kieff, Russia, to defame the principles of the Jewish religion through the ritual murder of Mendel Beilis, will be requested in a resolution by Representative Sabbath of Illinois, he announced today. Sabbath will also ask congress to instruct Secretary of State Bryan immediately to protest to the czar's government.

The Illinois congressman represents the west side district of Chicago, a constituency largely composed of Russian Jews.

Chicago Grain Review

CHICAGO, Oct. 16.—Liquidation in the local wheat pit because of a break at Liverpool, caused a decline of 1/2 to 1 1/2 c at the start today. Receipts were a trifle lighter at Duluth and Minneapolis, but the heavy run to the Winnipeg market continued. A bulge in corn halted further decline in wheat but the market made no recovery of the early loss during the forenoon.

Corn was firm from the start and gained 1/2 to 3/4 c in the forenoon session on heavy buying by shorts.

Oats started steady and on the bulge in corn advanced a fraction for December and 1/4 c for May.

Provisions were firm after an easier start, caused by lower hog prices.

Wheat took another sharp dip in the afternoon, going to 87 1/2 c for December and to 88 1/2 c for May. Corn was affected by the break in wheat and lost 1/2 c to 3/4 c before the close. Oats followed downward, losing 1/4 c for each month. Provisions closed a trifle higher than at the opening.

GRIDIRON GOSSIP

WEST POINT, N. Y., Oct. 16.—Coach Daly is driving the Army football squad in preparation for the game with Colgate Saturday. He regards this game as the mid-season test for the West Pointers. Benedict and Pritchard are developing fast as kickers and will be relied upon in this department.

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Oct. 16.—Coach Jones was expected to try out another combination for the blue varsity today. There was a decided switch in the lineup yesterday and the varsity scored three touchdowns on the freshmen. Avery, Pendleton and Warren returned to their places. Pompey did not mix in the scrimmage work, but practiced drop kicking.

CHICAGO, Oct. 16.—Coach Stagg prepared to send the Maroons through their last stiff practice this afternoon before the Iowa game here on Saturday, thoroughly satisfied with the improvement made by his men since the Indiana game. The Maroon line has shown a formidable front to the second squad all week and Stagg's principal complaint has been directed at poor tackling.

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., Oct. 16.—Charles Brickley, Harvard's sensational drop kicker, probably will be kept on the side lines until the Crimson eleven is sent against Penn state. He is still nursing the injury to his hip and the coaches are taking no chances.

The varsity was put through the hardest scrimmage of the season yesterday. After twenty minutes' work with the scrubs the varsity was sent against the freshmen for forty minutes.

MILWAUKEE, Oct. 16.—The Marquette university football team left today for Omaha where on Saturday Coach Foley's men will meet Creighton university. Seventeen men will make the trip.

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., Oct. 16.—

With every man in the best of shape and prepared for a hard struggle against the Corn Huskers Saturday, twenty members of the Gopher football team will leave here this afternoon for Lincoln, Neb. A strenuous three hour workout was held yesterday afternoon, winding up ten days hard practice.

WOLGAST TRAINS

MILWAUKEE, Oct. 16.—In the presence of a large gallery, Ad Wolgast today began training for his bout October 24 with Charley White, before the National Athletic club here. Wolgast has imported a stable of sparring partners and has opened training headquarters in the Eagles' club here.

VARSITY SHOWS WELL IN "SCRIM"

Tormey, Cummings and Landberg Display Class in Battle with Scrubs

MADISON, Wis., Oct. 16.—In the first part of a furious scrimmage which lasted well into the evening at Camp Randall on Wednesday Van Gent, Tormey, Cummings and Tandberg showed great form.

Over 1,000 rooters, who occupied the bleachers, cheered the Badger eleven as it tore through the second and third teams on the regular gridiron.

Gelein appeared at left guard on the varsity and played a good game. The varsity string showed the result of this week's practice, playing a better game of football than that displayed against Marquette last Saturday. Tormey made the first touchdown for the varsity shortly after the start of scrimmage with the seconds.

Long gains by Cummings, Tormey and Tandberg kept the ball in the territory of the scrubs in the first part of the game. Van Gent, who played left half for the second string men, tore off some spectacular runs against the varsity. Cummings showed up as a steady ground gainer for the regulars. The entire back fields of both teams played a good game.

After the battle with the seconds the third eleven was brought out to meet Coach Juneau's primes. The freshmen did not appear.

The appearance on the field of Henry Cochems, one of the best known of Wisconsin's old time football stars, drew a hearty skyrocket from the assembled rooters. Joe The Badgers will clash with Purdue

Two more sessions of stiff practice, ending with scrimmage behind closed gates, supplemented by signal work at the gym annex in the evening, should put the Badgers into condition to meet the dreaded Purdue eleven on Saturday. Owing to the heralded strength of the Boiler Makers, the game is looked upon as a deciding point on the road to the western championship and many Wisconsin enthusiasts are planning to take the trip to Lafayette with the team.

Twenty-two sophomores reported to Assistant Coach Ople Davis Wednesday afternoon for an initial workout in preparation for the annual freshman-sophomore game. November 15 has been set as the date for the big underclass contest.

The football warriors today held the last scrimmage practice and prepared for a light workout Friday. The Badgers will clash with Purdue October 18.

SPORTS LYNCH TO FIGHT EFFORT TO OUST

NEW YORK, Oct. 16.—Much "official baseball" is expected during the coming months as the result of the movement to oust Thomas J. Lynch as president of the National League. Friends of Lynch declare that if the attempt to name R. W. Brown of Louisville, is pressed they will show just what is back of the desire to put Lynch out.

Lynch is keeping in close touch with developments, but today declared he would simply "stand on his record."

"If it is necessary to go to the club owners, asking for their votes, I consider that the position isn't worth a dime," said Lynch. "If I cannot be re-elected on what I have accomplished in this office, it is up to the league. When it comes to a show down I will fight and will not resign under fire."
